

BURST INTO TEARS.

Baltimore, Md., Jan. 31.—When the sweet strains of the song, "Mother," played by a street piano, wafted through windows kept wide open because of the balmy, spring-like weather of the last few days, a Cumberland, Md., recruit for the United States Marine Corps burst into tears and left the recruiting station of the "sea soldiers" in the custom house building today.

The recruit had not yet been enlisted and the recruiting officers made no effort to prevent his leaving.

"The sound of a bursting shell in battle might have conveyed the same sort of idea to that young fellow, and it is perhaps just as well," remarked one of the recruiting sergeants when the recruit, motherward bound, left the office.

Two o'clock Friday afternoon the English street car ran into the Kiss-Kola truck at the Chestnut street crossing, doing some little damage to the truck which the car, struck with such force as to temporarily render Ed. Mungo, one of the occupants, unconscious.

He also received slight bruises about the head, and is suffering no little from the accident.

SAW MILL ACCIDENT.

Ed. Hohn, 27 years old, married, and the father of three children, was horribly mutilated in a saw mill accident near Fairfield church. Mr. Hohn was operating a track saw and in trying to remove a piece of bark from a log, his overall jacket got caught in the fast whirling saw, pulling him into its dangerous teeth, cutting jaw bone into, severing the tongue, and badly lacerating chin and under lip. The man was brought to the hospital here and given attention and today is getting along as well as could be expected in such a case.

The Christian society of the M. P. church, recently organized, is growing nicely in membership and enthusiasm.

MAKE IT PERSONAL.

The trouble with a lot of advertising is that it isn't anything like the firm it is supposed to advertise. Make it truthful, personal, honest, gracious, earnest—just like you. Then the people will believe it.

SAVE MONEY BY READING.

The Review is being liberally patronized by the merchants of High Point to advertise their many splendid values for the trade and this alone should be a big inducement for you to subscribe to The Review so as to be able to keep up with the splendid bargains advertised from week to week. By missing these values advertised you will lose ten times the subscription price of The Review within a year. Be wise.

NOT THE LEAST DANGER.

A state and local story in regard to recent Bell operations where the local business was turned over to the local exchange at Concord, the Bell taking over the long distance business and contrasting this procedure with other likely towns wherein High Point was mentioned, perhaps created a wrong impression with some here. It can, however, be safely stated that the North State Telephone company of this city hasn't any idea now or in the past of entering into any agreement whatsoever with the Bell people, directly or indirectly. The company here has the business, the confidence of the people, is giving good service, (in fact among the very best in the south), is making money at the rate of a little over half what the Bell charges for same number of phones, and therefore is contented, and it is reasonable to suppose that with this excellent service and long distance connections over its own wires and the Postal Telegraph company, coupled with the fact that this service is about half what the Bell charges, that the people would seriously fight any attempt to curtail the good work of the North State Telephone company which is saving the telephone patrons of High Point $7,000 a year alone on their service.

Report of the Boys' Corn Club Work in the State.

As a result of the work of the Boys' Corn Clubs during the year 1915, reports sent in by the boys show that 70,040.4 bushels of corn have been produced by 1,308 boys reporting. Fifty boys made 100 bushels and above. The average yield of these fifty boys was 111.7 bushels per acre.

As an indication of the interest of the boys this past year, 37 3-10 per cent. of the boys enrolled reported, against 21 3-10 per cent. for the year 1914, an increase of 16 per cent. for the year.

Ninety-five out of the 100 counties in the state had boys enrolled in the work, and 88 counties out of the 95 sent in reports. The 12 remaining counties of the state from which no reports were received had only a combined total membership of 17.

Arthur Brisbane Says Country Weeklies Give Good Results

At a meeting of the American Advertisers Association Arthur Brisbane said: "Not the country publisher but the business man is the chief sufferer from the fact that our merchants and manufacturers have not utilized the country newspapers' advertising columns as they should and can be utilized. Remember these facts: The man who reads the little crossroads newspaper or the larger newspaper of the fair-sized town is a man who buys everything. He lives in a house and on land that he owns. He is interested in everything that the business men are doing. Through good advertising you can sell him everything, from the paint on the roof of his house to the cement in the floor of his cellar. Everything between the roof and the cellar, everything in the barn, and every tool in the field he buys and you may sell him. He is not like the dweller in the big city flat, who gets his water through a pipe, his light through the wire, his heat from the basement, and a ready-made dinner in a tin getting a ready-made suit of clothes and a ready-made dinner in a tin or paper box. The man who reads the country newspaper buys everything. He buys pumps, lamps, stoves, automobiles, clothing, dresses, books, paints, farm implements, furniture, carpets, oils. In this room are two hundred and fifty men and individuals. Some of them represent a dozen manufacturing enterprises and more. There isn't a man here who has anything to sell that he can not sell to the reader of a country newspaper. And every man here could more probably advertise in a country newspaper in proportion to its circulation than in any other publication on earth. I emphasize the value of the country newspaper as an advertising medium, for it has that value."
